SIEGEL-GALLAGHER HIRES AMY SOVINE AS A PROPERTY MANAGER

Milwaukee, WI, February 19, 2008—Siegel-Gallagher, ONCOR International is excited to welcome its newest Property Manager, Amy Sovine. Sovine's involvement with two major management firms in the Midwest area has given her a wide spectrum of experience in many avenues of property management including but not limited to: human resources, leasing, budgets, contract negotiations, and renovations. Sovine most recently managed 245,000 sq. ft. of commercial office space simultaneously with a 261,000 sq. ft. 275-unit apartment complex.

Her expertise lies in turning stressed, declining developments into flourishing, profitable properties at the top of their market. Her strong detail-oriented and organizational skills have allowed her to act as General Contractor for numerous multi-million dollar interior and exterior renovation and capital improvement projects. Her enthusiastic personality combined with her no-nonsense, hands-on approach has endeared her to her past tenants while her strong leadership skills have aided in creating and managing a staff with high performance standards.

With offices in Milwaukee and Madison, Siegel-Gallagher, ONCOR International is a fullservice commercial real estate firm offering property and facility management, asset management and advisory services, construction services, and commercial brokerage of multifamily, office, industrial and retail properties.
