EXPANDS THEIR TEAM WITH ROD MAYER

Milwaukee, WI, December 31st, 2008—Siegel-Gallagher has recently hired Rod Mayer as the Executive Vice President of Aviation to their Construction division. Mayer brings 25 years of progressive aviation and project management experience to Siegel-Gallagher. Since 2001, Mayer has led his own company offering Airline Liaison and Airline Technical Representative Services, most recently at Milwaukee, WI, and Myrtle Beach, SC. He has also provided construction, real estate development and owner representation services on commercial projects throughout the Midwest. In this role Mayer opened countless stations, directed literally hundreds of construction and facilities projects, sat on multiple AAAC and Technical Committees and established a strong presence as a key player at the negotiating table.
